Sabrina M. Mentor is an associate in the Orlando office of Conroy Simberg's Construction Litigation Practice Group. She defends general contractors, subcontractors, engineers, and design professionals in complex construction defect litigation in state, federal, and arbitration venues. She also represents carriers at mediation on insurance coverage issues relating to construction litigation, including additional insured recovery and indemnification demands.

Prior to joining Conroy Simberg, Sabrina litigated complex commercial and construction cases for several years at one of Florida's preeminent civil litigation defense firms. She also served as Managing Attorney for a boutique law firm with a practice focus in federal employment, whistleblower protection, and Veterans benefits.

Sabrina earned her Juris Doctor from Thomas M. Cooley Law, where she was on the Dean's List, served as Guest Editor of the Law Review, and graduated as Valedictory Speaker of her class. She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of South Florida.
