Conroy Simberg opened its Fort Myers' location in 1996. Situated on Florida's West Coast, the Fort Myers office positions our firm to deliver a complete range of insurance and civil defense services to businesses and industries in Fort Myers and the surrounding areas. The legal team in the Fort Myers office is well respected by the lawyers, judges and legal experts throughout Lee County and its surrounding areas. They are a highly skilled group of attorneys who have worked to develop strong and lasting partnerships with the diverse businesses and professionals operating in Southwest Florida. Major industries in the Fort Myers' area include leisure and hospitality, retail, professional and business services, agriculture, education and health services and construction.

The attorneys in our Fort Myers' office are accomplished litigators focused on partnering with clients to resolve complex legal matters. These lawyers consult and work with legal professionals throughout our firm's 13 office locations, to deliver high-quality and responsive legal services to businesses and professionals in Fort Myers and surrounding locations.

We are familiar with the many industries and organizations in the region and our legal team strives to develop legal plans and strategies that safeguard and promote our clients' important business needs and financial objectives.
